Today: There is a certain Irishman who is at the top of his profession as a film-star, enjoying world-wide acclaim. One of the things for which he is noted is the fact that he never misses a chance to return to the area in which he grew up. When he returns, he becomes a local again. He attends the local games, and joins the local fishermen. In a way, this helps to make him more REAL. In many ways, in today's gospel, even after his resurrection, Jesus is back among the old familiar scenes. He cooks a meal for his friends, he fills their boats with fish, and he ensured that he was accepted and loved as someone who loved them and cared for them.

Having Jesus cook breakfast for the Apostles is a lovely human touch. It is hard to imagine or to remember that this is the same Jesus who carried the cross to Calvary. We often use the phrase 'some things never changes', and St Paul tells us that "Jesus is the same yesterday, today, and always". Just because he has overcome death, and now enjoys the freedom of a life which death is no longer a threat or a reality, he still retains that lovely human touch, that down-to-earth relationship with those whom he had already called his friends.

For the ordinary punter among us, Peter is probably one of the most appealing of the apostles. He certainly comes across as being the most human, and, in the best sense of that word, the most ordinary. Just think about the following two points about Peter. When Jesus first saw Peter, we are told, that 'Jesus looked at Peter', and then he told him that he would be the rock on which he would build his Church. Later, when Peter denied Jesus, and ran away, we are told, once again, that 'Jesus turned and looked at Peter'. The thing that struck Peter was that the look had not changed. It was still a look of genuine love, and of friendly invitation. No wonder Peter went outside and wept his heart out. That is the origin of his beautiful words in one of his letters "Always have an explanation to give to those who ask you for the reason for the hope that you have". Peter had earlier boasted that, though the rest might deny Jesus, he certainly would not. Now it is Confession time for Peter! "Peter do you still think that you are the greatest?" That, of course, is not what Jesus asked him. Jesus had shown that he still loved Peter, and he needed Peter to declare where he stood. If Peter were burdened with guilt, he would hate himself, and therefore, he would not be in a proper frame of mind to receive love and forgiveness from anyone else, including Jesus. (MB)

Easter Flowers A Big Thank You to everyone who made the Easter Flowers so beautiful for that wonderful Feast. Many people helped – the Cathedral Flower Group, arrangers from other parishes, the "volunteer" muscle men who helped carry arrangements up from the Crypt, and 5 lovely teenage helpers (hopefully aspiring flower arrangers for the future?). Additionally, a huge thank you to all who contributed so generously to the Flower Collection without which nothing would have been possible.

Cake Stall Thank you to all who came and supported the Cake Stall last weekend and to all those who bought or made cakes. £78.00 was raised for the Youth Choir for their Pilgrimage to Lourdes. The next Cake Stall will take place on Sunday 26th May.

There will be a second collection next Sunday in respect of The Clergy Formation Fund.

Prayer for the Sick

Father, your Son accepted his sufferings to teach us the virtue of patience in human illness.
Hear the prayers we offer for our sick brethren.
May all who suffer pain, illness or disease realize that they have been chosen to be saints and know that they are joined to Christ
in his suffering for the salvation of the world.
We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.
