Together let's change the world. Friends in Caritas are folk from around our Diocese who want to grow in their practical witness to the Gospel, and find mutual support. As Caritas Friends we will help each other: Nourish our faith and the unique vocation God has given each of us. Be inspired by others, and in turn encourage them. Today: The last few Sundays, the Gospel talked to us about the importance of faith. Today's Gospel clearly shows what happens when faith is absent. When faith is absent, the power of Jesus will not work. An elderly woman read in the Gospel where Jesus said that if we had faith we could move a mountain, and have it cast into the middle of the sea. Before she went to bed that night, she prayed that the mountain opposite her house should move somewhere else. The following morning, she came downstairs, pulled back the curtain, and said, "Ha, I knew it wouldn't!" God will never disappoint you! If you don't expect anything to happen, then, you can be sure that nothing will happen. (MB)

The Common Good and the Family - 13th July from 6.30pm - 8pm ~ Event 2

The focus of much of social and economic policy and rights-based rhetoric is the individual. However, we all grow up in and belong in families. That is so, even if families come in all shapes and sizes and are sometimes fragile and face immense challenges. But there is evidence that the focus on the individual can create conditions that weaken family life. It is the family in which we are formed, it is where we learn to share resources, reconcile collective goals with our unique individuality, grow up and then assist the older generation, returning the love and service we received as children. The family is the fundamental unit of socialisation and the foundation upon which the common good is built. Drawing on the first event and acting as a precursor to the two subsequent events in the series, our panel will consider what needs to happen in civil society and public policy to create the conditions in which the family can fulfil its critical role. For further details and to book, please visit http://bit.ly/CommonGood_series2021
